Republicans In Ohio House Hint At Goals

Regulation And Not Promotion Pushed On Liquor Sales

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Majority Republicans in the Ohio House have given their first clue on legislative goals. One is emphasis on state regulation, rather than promotion, of liquor sales.

House Speaker Roger Cloud issued a prepared statement of goals after both houses adjourned Monday night. The Logan County Republican said some topics of his prepared statement have become majority policy, and that others will become policy as the session progresses.

Implying indirectly that the Department of Liquor Control is pushing liquor sales, Cloud pointed to sale of gift certificates and what he called "increasing advertising."

A bill was introduced in the House last month to prohibit sale of gift certificates for beer or liquor. And Cloud said another measure will be introduced to give local subdivisions the right to decide how many and where liquor permit holders can operate in their areas.

Among propositions in which House Republicans are "vitaly interested but have reached no agreement as to specific bills," Cloud said, are:

Expanding and strengthening branch activities of state universities. (Later in the statement, under "areas where we have the hope and intent during this session to develop a public program," was listed "further terminal training opportunities beyond the high school level in vocational and technical fields.")

Giving the Fair Employment Practices Commission jurisdiction to enforce existing antidiscrimination laws dealing with accommodations at public places.

Encouraging highway safety. The statement also calls for modifications of Ohio's unemployment compensation law of the type that Republicans in both houses managed to push through Monday night, and changes in the law to assure that no one is charged unfairly for care of a relative in a state mental institution. The latter proposal is expected to be reported out of committee this week.

It calls for redistricting to provide for Ohio's newly authorized 24th congressman, and ratification by Ohio of a change in the U. S. Constitution, permitting District of Columbia residents to vote for president in national elections. The House adopted the resolution last week.

DiSalle's Expected To Veto Jobless Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The long-embattled, Republican-sponsored bill to modify unemployment benefit provisions of the Ohio law is on its way to the desk of Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor's veto, from all appearances, is almost certain. Both houses of the legislature, on strictly party-line votes, approved the much-riddled measure more than 10 days after the legislature, agreed, in principle, that it should call a halt to what the Republicans call abuses in the payment of jobless benefits.

In reality, the GOP measure could have no immediate effect on Ohio's unemployment.

Atrocities Revealed

Some Americans Trapped In Kivu

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Malayan U.N. patrols today beat the bush to reach 300 white missionaries, businessmen and nuns in rebel-held Kivu Province as the first rescued told of atrocities by rampaging Congolese soldiers.

Some Americans were among the whites trapped in isolated jungle outposts as rescue forces were rushed out.

U.N. headquarters received a tearful typewritten plea from a Belgian nun: "Can no one help us from outside?"

The Congolese soldiers were running wild in a siege of terror that began more than two weeks ago in the Maniema region. Kivu officials, who refused to let the whites leave the chaotic province because their skills are needed, apparently were unable to keep their own forces in hand.

Only fragmentary reports came from the Malayan U.N. troops rushed into the area dominated by Lumumbists.

No word had been heard from a patrol sent to rescue an American missionary girl who was raped by four Congolese soldiers and told she would never be allowed to leave the province alive.

Three Belgian nuns — one 75 years old — were among 20 brutally beaten Europeans brought to Leopoldville.

One told of a raid on the Kasongo Mission. The nuns were hauled off to prison and forced to strip, and two ladies "were brought away and violated throughout the whole night."

The terror in Kivu came to light as the Congo's anti-Communist political leaders arrived in Elisabethville, capital of Katanga Province, after their talks at Tananarive, Malagasy.

A crowd of about 10,000 cheered President Moise Tshombe of Katanga, President Joseph Kasavubu of the Leopoldville regime.

The United States gave cautious approval to their plan for a Congo confederation of semi-independent states divided along tribal and economic lines. State Department press officer Lincoln White told newsmen in Washington the United States also hopes that Soviet-backed Antoine Gizenga, head of the Lumumbist regime in Stanleyville, will join in the negotiations establishing the confederation. Gizenga snubbed an invitation to the Tananarive meeting.

Patrolman Charles A. Winters set off fireworks today alongside Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff's bench as part of the prosecution's case against an East End merchant accused of selling firecrackers contrary to city ordinance.

John Laitich, 53, operator of the East End Dairy of 531 Mulberry St., was convicted as a result of the officer's testimony and demonstration. Judge Chertoff fined him $25 and costs, but suspended the fine on payment of costs and a promise that Laitich will destroy his stock of fireworks.

Patrolman Winters testified he made an investigation as a result of complaints from the high school that students were setting off fireworks called "atom curls" — an explosive that detonates when stepped upon.

He demonstrated one of the "atom curls," which he said he purchased from a girl clerk in the East End store. He also exploded another by hurling it onto the floor. But a third misfired when thrown to the floor.

Laitich told the court he "bought these items as 'caps' from a Youngstown distributor."

"I didn't realize they were against the law," he said. "After the officer talked to me, I immediately took them off sale."

The judge commented that such fireworks are "dangerous in the hands of a child." But he said the court was satisfied that Laitich "had no intention of breaking the law." Then he ordered the suspended fine on condition the merchant destroy the balance of his fireworks stock.

Beaver Local Seen Needing More Rooms

Board Told Future Hike In Enrollment Will Require Space

Anticipated increases in Beaver Local student enrollment will bring a need for additional classrooms in the sprawling district, it was reported at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

Some eight or nine more classrooms may be required for the 1962-63 term, George VanHorne, executive head, revealed in a study of projected enrollment.

The pupil population — now 2,218 — is expected to rise to some 2,310 by next fall and may increase to 2,404 by 1962-63, according to figures which VanHorne said are "conservative."

The enrollment in the district last year was 2,082.

VanHorne said such an increase would necessitate two more classrooms at the high school, public school, Calcutta School and Rogers School. Board members indicated another classroom would be needed at West Point.

The board will take the survey under study for a possible building program. Also to be considered is a more industrial arts facilities at the high school and additional physical education facilities at the public school.

The baseball coaching salary of Floreal Suarez was increased from $150 to $200 due to the increased sports program in which 40 boys are out for baseball. Thomas McCall, assistant basketball coach, was named an aide in the summer sports program to direct weight lifting and freshman baseball at a salary of $150.

The Anderson Methodist Church was granted permission to utilize the all-purpose room at the Calcutta School on Sundays, starting March 26, for worship. The church's building on W. 9th St. is being dismantled on the route of the freeway and a new building is to be erected.

Wayne Whittington of Oakmont was hired as a substitute bus driver.

Discussion was held on the summer improvement program which will include a new tile floor in the corridor of the older West Point building. The board approved application for reimbursement of two Title 3 projects in which federal funds will be received for part payment of science and visual aid equipment.

VanHorne was authorized to serve as clerk to pay bills. Harry Greenwood of Apple's Corners, clerk, remains in Salem City Hospital with a neck ailment.

He is joining the large Los Angeles law firm of Adams, Duque and Hazeltine.

He will divide his time between the law office and a separate, privately run political headquarters.

He will scrupulously avoid any legal activity that might lead to charges of conflict of interest.

He intends to provide leadership for the Republican party in California and the nation.

Nixon noted he will work as counsel, not partner, for the firm. As counsel, he explained, he will be paid only for those cases which he handles directly. As a partner, he would share in all fees received by the firm. He said this arrangement will help him avoid any charges of influence peddling or conflict of interest.

Last weekend Nixon announced he has no plans to run for governor of California. But some Republicans say they're not convinced he won't change his mind and oppose Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown next year.

10-Year Program President Requests $600 Million In Aid For Latin Countries

Castro Hurls New Threat Against U.S.

Kennedy Aid Plan For Latin Nations Touches Off Blast

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro threatened today that Cuba will "form many revolutionary governments-in-exile" — beginning with Puerto Rico — if the United States sanctions a Cuban government-in-exile.

The prime minister made a sharp counterattack to President Kennedy's announcement of a broad 10-year economic and social development program for Latin America and Kennedy's expression of hope that the people of Cuba "will soon rejoin the society of free men, uniting with us in our common effort."

Castro quickly interpreted the Kennedy program, outlined to Latin-American diplomats at a White House reception, as a call for a revolt against his regime.

"If they promote revolution against us, we will promote revolution against the governments which promote revolution against us," he said.

Castro linked his attack on the Kennedy administration with a fresh charge of aggression by the United States. He said the United States had supplied counter-revolutionaries with an armed ship that shot up the nationalized Texaco oil refinery at Santiago before dawn Monday.

The government-controlled press and radio said the ship probably sped to a refuge at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay after firing shots that killed a Cuban sailor, wounded a militiaman, and set fire to an atmospheric tower at the refinery, and punctured three tanks.

Officials at the naval base, 45 miles east of Santiago, denied the vessel had taken refuge at the base.

Castro fumed with anger in a three-hour postmidnight speech before a rain-drenched crowd around the steps of Havana University. While the crowd was gathering, a bomb exploded in the Vedado district branch of the Cuban National Bank. No one was hurt.

Castro charged that armed attacks on Cuba had increased since Kennedy took over the presidency. He showered his warmest praise yet on the Soviet-led Communist bloc. Castro derided Kennedy as a "captive of monopolies" and called the President's "supposed alliance for progress a historical joke which intends to be a continental joke."

Castro said "barely two years ago the Yankee empire did not remember (Latin) America existed." He said the Cuban revolution and leftist advances in Latin America had awakened the United States.

Extradition Hearing Set

FBI Arrests City Woman In Miami Robbery Charge

A 27-year-old East Liverpool woman was taken into custody Monday night by FBI agents and Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, alleging she participated in a $12,000 armed robbery in June 1959 at Miami and other stickups in the Dade County (Fla.) area.

Mrs. Sarah Watkin Koffel, 1700 Pennsylvania Ave., was picked up on a federal warrant alleging she fled from Florida to Ohio "to avoid prosecution for the crime of armed robbery."

The arrest was announced by Edward Hargett, agent in charge of the FBI office at Cleveland. Mrs. Koffel was located in East Liverpool with the aid of local police, who also had been alerted on the case in a wire from Arthur Hittoe, assistant Florida state attorney at Miami.

Held in the County Jail at Lisbon, Mrs. Koffel is scheduled for arraignment in Common Pleas Court for extradition to Florida.

The FBI said three others already in custody at Miami have pleaded guilty to robbery indictments. It said Mrs. Koffel and others were "allegedly involved in robberies in the vicinity of Miami in 1959."

Her alleged accomplices were identified as her former husband, Donald Watkin, and an attorney and a former judge in Dade County. She was married in January to Kenneth Koffel of Lisbon, a bakery salesman.

The task of locating the woman was complicated by the fact she was listed under the name Watkins, but had been living here under the name of her new husband, authorities said. At the time of her recent marriage, she gave her address as Smiths Ferry.

Gaming Case Dismissed On No Evidence

Veterans Social Club Steward Freed After Crap Game Arrest

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a defense motion and dismissed for lack of evidence a case against Samuel Johnson of Pennsylvania Ave., steward of the Veterans Social Club, charged by police with "knowingly permitting a room to be used for gambling."

The judge heard about an hour of prosecution testimony before granting the dismissal motion filed by Atty. Hugo Alexander of Steubenville, defense counsel. Alexander argued that the testimony of Patrolmen Paul Carter and Samuel Hayes, who cited Johnson early last Wednesday, did not prove that gambling was taking place in the club when they entered.

In dismissing the charge, Judge Chertoff commented that the officers' testimony "left a doubt in the court's mind" and pointed out the old adage that "a man is innocent until he is proven guilty."

The officers testified they were unable to confiscate dice, money or any other evidence of a crap game which Carter said was in progress when they entered the club.

Based on the actions of a group of 20 to 25 around a pool table, Carter said "it was my belief" that a crap game was in progress. "A belief and a fact are two different things," the judge commented. "He saw money in peoples' hands, but that's all he saw."

Both Hayes and Carter testified that Carter approached Johnson, who was seated at the bar, and asked: "Sam, why do you permit gambling? You know what it will do to your place."

Johnson replied, both testified: "To make a little extra money." Atty. Alexander argued that Johnson might not have been seen.

Board Raises Appropriation At Wellsville

Fund Of $649,532 Is Up $21,210 Over 1960 Amount

An increased appropriation for 1961 was adopted by the Wellsville Board of Education Monday night.

It totals $649,532.29, up $21,210.25 over the 1960 appropriation of $628,322.04.

Increases in the bond retirement fund, higher anticipated fuel bills, salary increases for teachers with increments for years of service and a higher milk and cafeteria fund account for the general increase, according to R. S. Rolley, clerk.

The appropriation allows $440,280 for salaries, making a total of $570,565 in the general fund, $31,148.33 in the milk and cafeteria fund and $47,818.17 in the bond retirement fund.

A breakdown of the salaries is $18,630, administration; $365,650, instruction; $6,300, co-ordinated activities; $14,100, auxiliary agencies; $27,000, operation of the school plant; $7,000, maintenance, and $1,600, special services.

A breakdown of other operating expenses shows $34,700, supplies; $2,900, material maintenance; $4,500, equipment repair; $34,050, contract and open order service; $47,252, fixed charges; $6,800, capital outlay, and $83.78, unanticipated emergencies.

Rolley pointed out that the cafeteria is self-sustaining and although the appropriation is higher, it will not cost the board more money.

Beaver Murder Case May Go To Jury Today

BEAVER — The trial of Miss Minnie McNeill, 36, of Aliquippa, for the murder of Lewis Stevenson, 38, is expected to go to the jury today.

The trial started Monday. There were no witnesses. Miss McNeill testified that she was afraid of the Aliquippa man, whom she had known since 1954. She said he had cut her several times and she had been in the hospital.

She said he lunged as if he was fooling. She said she picked up a knife and stabbed him. Stevenson bled to death, according to the coroner. The tip of the knife entered the heart. He died Jan. 3.

Arvin Bell of Midland, who was due for trial on a charge of adultery and bastardy, signed a guilty plea Monday.

Cites Danger If Help Isn't Given Soon

Warns People Will Go To Communism Or Other Tyranny

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today urged Congress to provide $600 million as the first step in aid to Latin America. He said there is "grave and imminent danger that desperate peoples will turn to communism or other forms of tyranny" if help is not forthcoming.

The President sent a special message to the Capitol in a follow-up to his address Monday night calling for a 10-year cooperative aid program of "towering dimension" for south of the border nations. He advocated hoisting a banner with this motto: "Progress yes, tyranny no."

The administration program—outlined by Kennedy in a White House speech to Latin-American diplomats—is keyed to the idea of an alliance of progress. He wants the Latin-American countries to join with the United States in a massive drive to improve living conditions and thereby help out "tyranny from a hemisphere in which it has no rightful place."

Kennedy made it clear he had Cuba and the Dominican Republic specifically in mind in saying this.

In his message today, the President asked Congress to appropriate $600 million as an initial step in the over-all aid program, to meet a U.S. commitment made last year at Bogota, Colombia. Eighteen other American republics also subscribed to the idea of mutual help. The U.S. share was authorized by Congress at the last session, but the money hasn't been provided yet.

Congress also authorized $100 million in aid last year for reconstruction and rehabilitation of areas of Southern Chile devastated by earthquakes and fires. Kennedy urged speedy appropriation of this money "so the task of rebuilding the economy of Southern Chile can proceed without delay."

In calling for fulfillment of the U.S. commitment at Bogota as part of the administration's general aid program, Kennedy told Congress: "The Act of Bogota marks an historic turning point in the evolution of the Western Hemisphere. For the first time the American nations have agreed to join in a massive cooperative effort to strengthen Democratic institutions through a program of economic development and social progress."

Such a program is long overdue. Throughout Latin America millions of people are struggling to free themselves from the bonds of poverty and hunger and ignorance.

He said "If the Act of Bogota becomes just another empty declaration—if we are unwilling to commit our resources and energy to the task of social progress and economic development—then we face a grave and imminent danger that desperate peoples will turn to communism or other forms of tyranny as their only hope for change."

Belinda Lee, 26, British Actress, Killed In Wreck

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP)—A skidding, somersaulting automobile flung British actress Belinda Lee 63 feet to her death Monday and injured three Italian movie-makers including her fiancé.

The beautiful box-office star was returning to Hollywood from a scene-scouting trip to Las Vegas, Nev. The Italians have been making a documentary film, not involving Miss Lee, 26.

The station wagon, estimated by a witness to be going more than 100 miles an hour, blew its left rear tire, skidded 1,100 feet, leaped a ditch and crashed upside down, the highway patrol said. Miss Lee, unconscious, lived 15 or 20 minutes.

Her fiancé, movie director Gualtiero Jacopetti, 41, suffered a broken leg. He was reported in fair condition at Barstow Community Hospital, where the injured were taken.

Two other men in the car suffered lesser injuries.

The crash occurred about 150 miles northeast of Hollywood.

Miss Lee, born in Devon, England, made her screen debut, in 1954, in "Runaway Bus."

The young beauty was voted one of the top British money-making stars in the 1957 Motion Picture Herald-fame poll conducted by the movie magazine.

Nominating Group Named

PTA Federation Conducts Child Adjustment Panel

How the home and school can best work together toward the goal of well-adjusted and well-educated children was emphasized in a panel discussion held by the City Federation of Parent-Teacher Organizations Monday night at Westgate School.

Mrs. Donald Baxter moderated the theme, "Parents and Teachers as Partners," along with the sub-title, "What Kind of Parent are You?"

Mrs. Ray Diddle spoke on "Parents' Preparation for the Pre-School Child" and explained the phases of physical, emotional and social readiness necessary to develop a spirit of co-operation for the child.

"What the Parent Expects from the Teacher" was stressed by Mrs. Marvin Kinsey. She said individual counseling is encouraged and the teacher should command respect as her influence is readily recognized.

Mrs. Beryl Lightner used the topic, "What the Teacher Expects from the Parents." She told of a child's adjustment to its environment and how he is expected to live effectively and efficiently with society. She read "The Ten Commandments for Parents," printed in a recent issue of the Family Weekly section of The Review.

"Learning Moral and Spiritual Values at School" was discussed by Miss Helen Hannahs, who stressed class relationship and how "The Golden Rule" applies to many situations.

William Sturgeon, the final panelist, spoke on "Learning of Values at Home." He said parents should be an example and provide the incentive for achievement. The need for maturity and responsibility are recognized, he said, and parents should set standards for their children.

During the question-and-answer period which followed, Paul Blair, assistant superintendent of school, and Thomas Dixon, principal of Westgate, discussed several inquiries regarding "homework."

The group was told to read an article on the subject in a recent issue of Life magazine.

Mrs. Baxter closed with a "Prayer for Parents" and Mrs. Lightner read "The Teacher's Prayer." Mrs. Dale Franklin was program chairman.

Mrs. G. Richard Jones, president, conducted business and named a nominating committee. Mrs. Jack White of Neville School, Mrs. Kenneth Baxter of Glenmoor School and Mrs. Darrell Serafy of McKinley School.

Mrs. James Johnston read the minutes and Mrs. Diddle the financial report. A poll was taken on the work camp proposed by Judge Louis Tobin of Juvenile Court.

Judges appointed for the city-wide spelling bee include Charles Heasley of Garfield School J. E. Wynn of Glenmoor and Mrs. Richard Emmerling of McKinley.

During roll call, Lincoln School had the largest representation. Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by members of the Neville and Pleasant Heights associations. The buffet table was decorated in a St. Patrick's Day theme. Irish articles were placed on the other tables.

The group will attend the annual dinner meeting of the Child Counseling Center April 10. The next meeting is May 8 at the school library.

Hancock Suit's Transfer Sought

NEW CUMBERLAND — Petition for removal of a $250,000 damage suit from Hancock County Circuit Court to the U. S. District Court in Wheeling was filed there Monday.

The petition was brought in the federal court by A. E. Anderson Construction Corp. and the Pittsburgh Bridge & Iron Works of Pittsburgh. They are defendants in the suit filed by Benjamin G. Turnbaugh of Weirton, who claimed he suffered disabling injuries while working as a pipefitter at the Weirton Steel plant.

Turnbaugh said he was injured on April 15, 1960, when struck by debris from a steel stairway that had fallen while being hoisted against a furnace.

Turnbaugh's suit, charging negligence, asserted that the Anderson firm was hoisting the stairway, which had been fabricated by the Pittsburgh concern.

One of the nation's biggest and oldest traveling homemaking shows, the Gasco Food and Modern Living Institute, will appear here March 21 and 22.

H. R. Sneddon, manager of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office, said the institute's two performances will be given from the stage at Westgate Junior High School at 8 each night. Admission will be free.

"We've Got A Secret" will be the title of the first day's show and "Blue Ribbon Favorites" will be the theme for the final performance. Lecturer Harriett Wolfe and food institute manager Bob Eichhorn will present both shows, assisted by Betty Newton of the gas office here.

According to Miss Wolfe, this is "the most elaborate and attractive traveling kitchen in the history of the cooking school."

HARRIETT WOLFE Will Take Part In School.

Sketches For Southern Local School Approved Tentatively

Tentative approval of basic sketches of a proposed new Southern Local High School was given by the Board of Education Monday night.

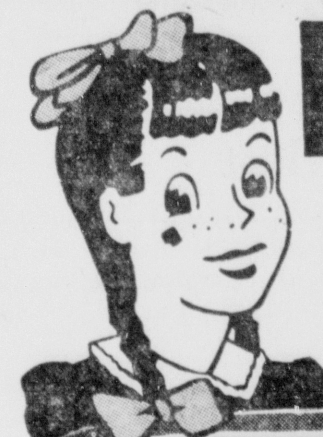

The board approved the sketches by Robert Beatty, East Liverpool, who went today to Columbus to submit the rough plans to State Education Department officials.

Beatty was to confer with T. V. Utterback, state buildings supervisor, on the plans for the school for which voters will consider a $356,000 bond issue in the May 2 election.

Image Of Success Is Best

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, the Kentucky Republican who has been shouldering his party's national chairmanship, is looking for a successor. He will be too busy running for re-election next year to run the Republican party.

Among possible successors is Ohio's Republican chairman, Ray C. Bliss, famous for his organizing ability after the triumph that carried Ohio for Richard M. Nixon. Mr. Bliss has everything required for the job, except the one thing he dislikes most about politics — the ability to make a good speech. He is not a fluent orator. This would be a handicap to him as national chairman.

But there should be a place for him in the national organization, because of his skill and patience in setting up the organization that is required to register voters and get them to the polls on Election Day. Even if he isn't a Thurston Morton on the speaking platform, his talents are indispensable.

Ever since Franklin D. Roosevelt set a new pace for partisan vote-getting in 1932 and held it through three succeeding elections, the Republican party has been looking for a similar secret of success. There has been much talk about finding a new Republican image, but that isn't what the Republican party really needs.

It needs victories at the polls, an image of voting success. Democrats like James A. Farley, Edward J. Flynn and Harry Hopkins showed the Democratic image-makers how to create an illusion of insuperability. Until Dwight D. Eisenhower decided to cast his lot with the Republicans, the Democrats were insuperable in national elections.

Diogenes Without A Lantern

The most talked-about current event over the weekend was Douglas Johnson's decision to restore a money bag containing $240,000 to its rightful owner out in Los Angeles.

The story of the Negro handyman and his once-in-a-million find—a bag that had fallen out of a money truck—was told as if honesty in the United States were as rare as Diogenes is supposed to have thought it was in ancient Greece.

The truth is to the contrary. Honesty is not rare at all in the United States. Douglas Johnson was typical, not unique.

All but a tiny fraction of Americans would have returned the money bag if they had been in Douglas Johnson's place. They would have been tempted, as he undoubtedly was tempted, when he learned what he had picked up. But they would have decided that honesty was the best policy.

Their behavior in this regard can be predicted with mathematical certainty. A complex business structure is founded on the demonstrable fact that an overwhelming majority of people in America are honest. Dozens of practices carried on in this country would be impractical in parts of the world where dishonesty is the rule instead of the exception.

Yet the slander persists that Americans are doing the exceptional and the unusual thing when they are tempted to be dishonest and choose to be honest, instead. If this were true, the country's economic structure would have to be made over, to

General Electric Idea On Trial

Company and union negotiators and the National Labor Relations Board will share extrajudicially interest this week in an NLRB hearing covering General Electric Co.'s policy during a nationwide strike last October.

The company has been charged by NLRB with unfair labor practices. The hearing on this charge will be held before a trial examiner in New York City. Later this month charges of unfair labor practices against the International Union of Electrical Workers will be held in Schenectady and Syracuse. These charges also grew out of the strike last October.

The real issue at stake in the hearings on both sets of charges is whether or not General Electric may have added a new dimension to collective bargaining with a policy of stating its position at the outset and never changing it, barring introduction of new information that would justify reconsideration.

This policy proved odious to the union bargainers in last October's strike. The settlement reached after three weeks was virtually the same one that could have been made if the union had accepted the company's offer in the first place.

James B. Carey, president of IUEW, complained it amounted to a refusal to engage —not because of any ideology or image, but because they couldn't be licked at the meat-and-potatoes job of getting votes.

Ray Bliss proved in Ohio that the secret is organization. Nothing succeeds like success, and in this state Republicans today are the top dogs in politics because they won here last November. The same organizing tactics applied generally could have given Republicans a smashing triumph, because in truth there was little to choose between as far as political images were concerned last Nov. 8.

Are You Registered?

It's time to ask this question again: Are you registered to vote?

If not, it's time to do something about it since registration will close March 22.

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the May 2 primary elections, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 7, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Don't throw your vote away because of indifference or just plain carelessness. Your ballot is important.

compensate for a factor of dishonesty that never had loomed importantly before.

It is a slander like the one that makes some Americans believe something must be wrong with the rising generation because they hear so much about juvenile delinquency. One young person in a thousand goes sour and the slanderers shriek that all is lost. An occasional robber, embezzler, burglar, or cheat runs loose, and the country-wide is ablaze with imitations of Diogenes peering with lanterns held aloft for "one honest man."

Diogenes could have had his pick in the United States without even lighting his lantern. The whole society is built on the supposition that almost everybody is honest and that the rare exceptions will be rounded up at the pass, as they say in television.

Key To Service

The East Liverpool High School Key Club has added to its stature by achieving statewide recognition for its work during the weekend convention in Columbus.

Among the honors reaped by the local group were a second-place award for achievement and the selection of one of its members—Robert Gilmore—for a state post.

The youngsters' service projects already are widely known and appreciated locally. It is pleasing to see them moving ahead on an Ohio level.

The club sponsors and club advisors also have a right to be proud.

in collective bargaining. The company's reply to his complaint was that he really wanted to carry on a secret auction, keeping General Electric employees in the dark about what was going on.

Under company policy, first laid down by Lemuel R. Boulware, a former General Electric vice president in charge of labor relations, employees know exactly what is being offered from the outset. They have their choice between accepting it or rejecting it, unless their negotiators can show the company it erred in its calculations of what it could afford.

It is a hard policy; the reason it is intolerable to union negotiators is obvious. It turns every negotiation into an open-and-shut choice between accepting what has been offered, or going out on strike and losing pay for the sake of penalizing the company and its shareholders.

Even so, it is not without a glimmer of hope. It shows the importance of continuous contact in the intervals between negotiations.

If the terms revealed are to be final, if management is to know as clearly as unions know what will be acceptable before bargaining begins and intends to publish its terms at the outset, there will need to be labor statesmanship of a high order between bargaining sessions.

Economic experts seem to be in oversupply. Listening to them is a good way to get dizzy spells.

Several cities report fireside knifings and shootings in disputes over what TV show to tune into or out of. There are more living-room rows than you think over this issue, and violence is not rare. When we have the whole family, or neighbors, into our TV room we first insist on disarmament at the doorway.

No Unemployment Problem Here

The Communists Prepare For Action

By Victor Riesel

Were I to report that there is a newly reorganized underground organization of seven-to-eight thousand activists, directed by a central secretariat of five men, an executive committee of 17 and a national board of 60, all dedicated to tearing down our democratic way, there would be an outcry from all.

Victor Riesel

But since I refer to the newly-revived Communist party of America; some cynics will chuckle. This is a matter of political taste.

There is, for example, a secret document now being distributed among leaders of the Communist party U.S.A. which is no laughing matter. Not unless one has a macabre sense of humor and a myopic sense of history.

This document—a call for Communist action in '61, was written at the party's national headquarters in New York during a national board meeting on Jan. 22.

There is no doubt that it was based on dire directives from the American section of the international Communist bureau in Moscow. Therefore it represents the thinking of Chairman Khrushchev, Frol Koslov, Comrade Kossygin and other policy makers on the Praesidium of the Communist party, U.S.S.R.

Thus, this secret letter, dated Jan. 31, signed by U.S. Communist party national secretary Benjamin Davis, scientifically reflects what the Soviets really want of the U.S.

THE COMMUNISTS' action program, outlined in the missive to all state and regional party leaders, calls for demonstrations and direct pressure on President Kennedy to ignore Congress and the Pentagon and take unilateral action to appease the Soviets across the world.

The price for Khrushchev's keeping his shoes on is clearly stated: "With these powers (of the President) in mind," says the secret letter, "we Communists urge the people to call on President Kennedy to act at once. . . . for world peace; peaceful co-existence to restore our lost prestige. Restored diplomatic and trade relations with Cuba. . . . restore naval base quotas; give up the Cuban government with material aid in rebuilding the country. . . ."

"Discontinue all interference in the internal affairs of Laos. . . . liquidate the war-provoking Southeast Asia Defense Organization (SEATO); abandon all military bases in the Pacific; join other interested world powers in creating an atom-free zone of peace throughout Asia. . . ."

"Withdraw all support from the imperialist puppets, Kasavubu and Mobutu, in the Congo; cooperate with the Asian-African and the socialist states in the U.N. for the solution of the Congo question. . . ."

"Recognize the Peoples Republic of China; join others in admitting China to the United Nations; abandon all military bases on Formosa, South Korea, South Viet Nam, and in Japan."

THERE IS MORE but you get the general idea.

As for pressure on John Kennedy to act on the home front, this too is spelled out in clear English. Nothing is left to Communist Aesopian language. For example:

"The popular organizations of the people should exert constant pressure on President Kennedy and on Congress to force out corporation heads from the Cabinet and to set up curbs and controls on the military, FBI and all federal executive agencies.

"The Central Intelligence Agency, with its enormous secret powers over the life and death of the American people, should be abolished."

There is, in this document, a call for the impeachment of such southern congressmen as Howard Smith of Virginia, James Oliver Eastland and William Meyers Colmer of Mississippi. Finally the directive winds up with a call for:

"Nationalization. . . with democratic peoples controls of all banking institutions, railroads and all transportation lines, atomic energy installations, power and light corporations and plants engaged in the production of military equipment."

I do not make this secret letter public in the belief that Communist legions will be marching up Pennsylvania Ave. this year.

I do report this directive in the belief that many of the Communist party's seven or eight thousand hard-core members are strategically placed around the land.

Quietly, by indirection and subtlety, they will attempt to have their organizations pressure the President into making concessions.

Obviously the price of appeasement on the international market is inflated. Let it also be obvious that we know who plans to harass the President on this front.

Nixon's Political Future

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The only thing clear about Richard M. Nixon's political future is that it isn't clear at all, even to him.

The former vice president made a statement to Republicans which has been interpreted as meaning he won't run for governor in California in 1962.

There is one simple rule for deciding when a politician will not run for office. That's when he says: "I will not be a candidate under any circumstances."

Nixon's didn't go that far in telling California Republicans he will not be Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown's opponent in 1962.

What he said was: "I am not a candidate. I have no intention to be a candidate or institute a draft."

Having no intention now and being persuaded later to run are not the same thing. And, while he said he would not start a move to draft him, he didn't say he would turn down a draft if someone else started it.

And he was even less precise about his ideas on running for the presidency again in 1964 or 1968, and understandably so.

The New York Times reported he told confidants he had no plans at present to run for the White House again.

But he conceded, the Times said, that his making a second try was not beyond the realm of possibility.

There is a simple interpretation for this: Right now he's not sure of his prospects in 1964, so he's not sticking his neck out.

It's questionable that he will be in a position to do any picking or choosing in 1964 for he may be in the political discard by then.

He indicated in California he may take an active leadership role in the party. As the 1960 defeated presidential candidate he is the so-called titular head of the party anyway. That could and may become an empty title.

When he spoke of his leadership he qualified it by saying he'd lead only "to the extent that fellow members of my party may desire me to do so."

Already there's some question about how welcome his leadership is.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, most vigorous spokesman for the Republicans' extreme right wing, apparently isn't willing to let Nixon call the shots just because he's supposed to be the leader.

He said if Nixon wants to be a power in the party he should run for something Goldwater added: "Until he gets elected to some position, he's just going to be a Republican lawyer."

"If Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York is re-elected next year he will be in a much better position to win the presidential nomination in 1964."

So, before Nixon has had time to look around, he's been told in effect: "Anything you get, you'll have to fight for."

Rockefeller, Nixon's only real rival in 1960, will, if re-elected governor of New York next year, be in a prime spot to grab for the big prize in 1964.

In one election after another, with only a couple of exceptions in the past two decades, voters have rejected the Republicans' conservatism.

Judging from this past experience the Democrats figure to win again in 1962 and 1964 unless the Kennedy administration turns out dismally or unless the Republicans get more progressive.

And Rockefeller, not Nixon, represents the progressive wing of the party.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — With the support of the police department and the Columbiana County Motor Club, enrollment was launched in the Silvertown Safety League.

Miss Ina McLain was named president of the Philathea Class of the First United Presbyterian Church.

Robert Pennybaker, Sara Bourne, Richard Heddlston, Mary Louise Work, Gilbert Simpson Jr. and Jenny Lind Smith were the leading characters in the Senior Class comedy, "Skidding."

TWENTY YEARS AGO — James Irwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Irwin of Avondale St., presented vocal solos over Radio Station WWSW Pittsburgh.

"Fathers' Night" was observed by the East Liverpool Band Mothers, Mrs. J. D. Hedenquist was president.

Mrs. William Kell was named president of the Symphony Club during a meeting held at the home of Mrs. J. O. Heddlston on E. 5th St.

An Unsolved Problem

By David Lawrence

'Cause' Organizations Require Close Study

The House of Representatives has given an overwhelming vote of confidence to its committee on Un-American Activities but, while this is constructive, it doesn't altogether solve the problem of how to expose the efforts of the Soviet government to infiltrate certain colleges, churches, newspapers, radio and television stations, labor unions and businesses in the United States. There are also many "cause" organizations with ostensibly worthy purposes which are Communist-inspired.

The real problem is how to distinguish between those individuals who sincerely and honestly advocate policies they truly believe in and those who are influenced by intermediaries to write or demonstrate in behalf of various causes.

Many such intermediaries are believed to be in the pay of the Communists.

The very movement launched recently on such an extensive scale to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities has become suspect.

While there are many persons who on principle do not like any congressional investigations, there are others who, though joining in the attack on the House committee procedures, are strangely silent when other congressional committees use virtually the same tactics to ferret out the facts.

There was a time in American history when newspapers and magazines alone took the leadership in exposing wrongdoing but the courts lately have narrowed the freedom of the press in this respect by decisions in libel cases.

Testimony and statements given before Congress and its committees, on the other hand, are immune from damages for libel when published. If, therefore, committee investigations were abolished, the opportunities for misleading the American people and subverting American institutions would grow by leaps and bounds.

The Communists know this, and that's why they have gotten behind the drive to abolish the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It means the difference between exposure of the Communist activities inside this country and hiding the facts about attempted subversion.

THE HOUSE committee, to be sure, has an even more important role—to educate those who are innocently deceived by Communist subversive tactics in America.

Perhaps the clearest explanation of what is going on today has come from the pen of Roy M. Brewer of New York City, vice chairman of the Council Against Communist Aggression. He writes:

"The extreme effort which the Communist party is making to destroy and discredit the Committee on Un-American Activities is evidence of the fear which the party has for the disclosures of the committee.

"I doubt if there is any person in America who has spent a greater personal effort to help those persons who have been victimized by the deception of the Communist conspiracy than have I."

"No one has more fully recognized the necessity of separating the hard core—who are the perpetrators of the conspiratorial work—and the victims who make up the periphery of the apparatus under the mistaken belief that they are working for civil rights and humanitarian causes."

"But this should not blind us to the fact that the periphery is an important part of the Communist apparatus. Without it the Communist party could not confuse and divide us as they now do."

"Therefore any disclosures which tend to break the line of communication between the hard core and the periphery group will reduce the effectiveness of the over-all operation to the degree that the real nature of the conspiracy is disclosed."

"THE USUAL CRY against the committee is that it is maligning innocent people. Innocent in what respect? Innocent of membership in the party, perhaps, but not of being a part of the transmission belt that has sold so much of the Communist line to America and the world."

"Such people are entitled to be treated as misguided persons but they are not entitled to secrecy to the degree that the apparatus remains hidden and undetected in its operation. The people who are drawn unwittingly into this web should not be branded as traitors, nor should they be considered disloyal but they should assume responsibility for their acts."

"It is really the lack of understanding of the true nature of communism that has caused the greatest criticism of the House committee."

"The public doesn't fully understand that one can really be a part of the Communist apparatus without intending to be; that one can serve the Communist purpose without being sympathetic to its aims."

"If the so-called liberals of America want to be worthy of the name, then they must assume the leadership against the most reactionary force in the history of the world—the world Communist conspiracy."

"In the meantime it is our duty as citizens to help the American people understand the problem and to interpret the disclosures of the House committee and other investigating groups rather than try to destroy them because we don't like the facts they have disclosed."

What Mr. Brewer says will be echoed by almost all the members of Congress irrespective of party. They don't want to injure the reputation of anyone who is truly innocent but they do want American public opinion to be informed that suppression of the facts bearing on the operations of the Communist conspiracy inside the United States is not only un-American but dangerous to the safety of this country.

Public Notice

Law suits often hinge upon oddities in some phase of human relations.

In another state not long ago a woman sued a physician for $10,000 for an alleged breach of contract. Her complaint was that he failed to deliver her baby.

It seems, according to her story, that he attended her during the months of her pregnancy. She understood that he would be with her when the baby came. But in her suit she charged that he did not appear at the hospital until after the baby had been delivered.

The issue here involved the law of contracts, which is a separate branch of the law. The superior court justice sitting in on the case continued it.

This meant that it could not go to trial until later and the issue could not be settled until later, unless the suit was withdrawn or settlement was made out of court.

In any event, certain elements are basic to any lawsuit. The person or persons sued have a right to know who is suing them and for what.

Without going into all of the details, they are entitled also to their so-called day in court, that is, the right to be heard.

The basic right to be put on notice in court has its parallel in public notices or legal advertising as carried in newspapers.

They, too, are designed to put interested parties on notice and enable them to protect their rights. Publishing such notices is a service rendered by virtually all bona fide newspapers of paid general circulation. And this is provided for by law in all the states.

Parking Curb At Salineville Moves Ahead

SALINEVILLE — An ordinance curbing parking on Main St., in line with broadened state jurisdiction for improvement of Routes 39 and 164, was approved on second reading by Council Monday night with one dissenting vote and protests from a former mayor.

Council moved toward final reading for the measure, which would ban all parking on Route 39 in the West End from the village limits to Main St. and on Main St. from Lincoln St. to Blazy's Bridge.

It would restrict parking to one side on Main St. from Blazy's Bridge to Elm St. and ban parking on Elm St. to the east limits of the village. Parking is now permitted on both sides many places on the route or on one side in narrow places in the business district.

Councilman Donald Lewis opposed the ordinance in last night's vote. Karl Lindner, jeweler and insurance agent, said he and a number of the town's businessmen are opposed to the parking curb which they believe would adversely affect local shopping.

Lindner, former mayor, said there are streets in East Liverpool which are as wide as Main St. on which parking is permitted on two sides without obstructing the flow of traffic.

He indicated other businessmen would voice protests upon the next presentation of the measure. The ordinance is sought by Ohio Highway Department officials as a preliminary to blacktopping Routes 39 and 164.

Mayor Kenneth Leishman reported the Ohio Water Pollution Control Board advised the village its permit is due to expire, and that an extension to Jan. 15, 1962, will be granted only if a site for a sewage disposal plant is selected and a bond issue submitted to a vote by the people.

Council approved the 1961 appropriation ordinance of $74,903. The measure is up $2,278 from 1960 due to a 2-mill cemetery levy which provides that amount.

Council took under further study a request by William Gill of Salem to establish a coin-operated public automatic laundry in the village. The village's acting solicitor reported he had been advised by county sanitation officials a state permit would be needed.

However, J. B. Close, contractor for Gill, said he had been advised by state officials no such permit is required. Council tabled action pending an opinion from the pollution control board.

Council agreed to accept a program by which men of the village receiving surplus food would work out the costs on streets and roads. The proposal was offered by Wilber Warren of Lisbon, surplus food

Counterfeit 50-Cent Pieces Are Discovered

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — Two men walked into the Portage County sheriff's office. Their hands were full and their pockets bulging with 50-cent pieces—all counterfeit. Herman Plisner and Wayne Sommers said they found the coins in four buried paint cans Monday.

Joe Hegedus, Portage County detective chief, said the coins bore mint marks for the years 1906, 1913, 1915 and 1928. July 1932 newspapers covered the cans, which were in a basement water tank. Hegedus said he will seek help from the Cleveland office of the U. S. Treasury Department to determine the origin of the coins.

Jobless Benefits Exhausted By 204 District Residents

A total of 204 East Liverpool area residents have exhausted their claims for unemployment benefits since last July, Harry L. Dinsmore, manager of the Ohio State Employment Service office, said today.

The total exhausted in the state hit 77,700 in the same period, he said.

Meanwhile, a statewide survey in the week of Jan. 15-21 provided a profile of the unemployed as to age, sex and work classification, Dinsmore said.

The cross-section showed 215,869 continued claims filed in the week with four out of five claimants being men. Three-fourths of the men and women submitting the continued claims were over 45.

The survey showed 57 per cent had been employed in manufacturing, 19 per cent in construction trades, 13 per cent in wholesale and retail trade and the remainder in other types of work.

Thirty-one per cent of the unemployed were unskilled workers, 30 per cent semi-skilled, 23 per cent skilled, eight per cent in clerical and sales, and six per cent in services, Dinsmore said.

Council Snags Lisbon Tract Annexation

LISBON — Council Monday night again refused to take final action on the annexation of a 45.80-acre tract north of village and east of Route 45, belonging to Robert Williams.

Atty. Richard Kennedy, Williams and J. Homer Browne spoke on the request for the annexation for a housing development but there was considerable discussion on responsibility for the road from Route 45 to Route 164 bordering the north line of the tract. Council asked who would be responsible for maintenance of the road, the village or trustees. At present, both would have equal obligations if the annexation is completed.

Mayor Dean Stockman will meet Wednesday evening with Center Township trustees, along with the Kannal Coal Co., concerning upkeep of the road to the village dump, west of Lisbon. He and the trustees will then try and come to some agreement on the road bordering the Williams tract.

Council advised Williams that it desires further discussion of the annexation and will meet Monday evening to review the matter. Councilmen said they will take final action on the matter, one way or the other, March 27.

Several property owners on the west side of Route 45 expressed their desires not to include their side of the road in annexation to the village. They discussed what benefits they would receive if their side is annexed. At present they have water service and street lights but each has his own sewage system.

Council turned over to the street committee the Lions Club survey of merchants in regards to the annual street fair, proposed on N. Park Ave. from the Village Hall west to Buckeye Dr. and north on N. Market St. on Route 45 from the Public Square to Chestnut St. The state highway department would allow a detour for Route 45 traffic. Of the 20 merchants and owners of buildings, 14 approved the location and six were opposed. Council said the street committee will check and report by March 27.

A bill in the State Legislature was read. It provides that the four highest vote-getters would be automatically elected to council for the four, four-year terms at the November election.

The fifth and sixth highest would be elected to the two, two-year terms. Council said it is not in favor of the bill, contending that a candidate running for the two-year term might be the highest vote and, not wanting the four-year term, would have to resign.

Councilman Clyde Pike requested that a one-way traffic sign be erected on S. Park Ave. He said the pole is there but sign is missing. He also requested sign on an alley in the rear of 402 N. Market St., where deep cuts have been cut by traffic. Mayor Stockman will advise the street department.

William Hiscox requested help in drainage of water in an alley along his home at 121 Jerome St. He said the water collects in his year when it drains from the alley. Mayor Stockman gave the complaint to the street committee, which will inspect the location with Hiscox.

Next meeting is March 27 at 7:30 p. m.

James Petrella won the project prize. Refreshments were served. Next meeting is April 14, at 8 p. m., in the Township Building.

Quick-Thinking Pilot Prevents Possible Crash

CLEVELAND (AP)—A four-engine United Air Lines plane hurtled down the runway at Cleveland Hopkins Airport Monday night, ready to take off. Suddenly flames burst from one motor.

The pilot, Capt. Methoven of Chicago, hit the brake and triggered a device shooting carbon dioxide from inside the ailing No. 4 engine.

Forty-six passengers were evacuated via an emergency chute. There were no injuries and the fire was extinguished within five minutes.

The DC7 had not reached the speed it needs to take off. Methoven radioed the control tower. He knew what was wrong because a fire warning signal flashed on his instrument panel and a bell sounded.

The craft was bound for Newark, N.J. All but five passengers consented to go on another plane which left one hour and forty-five minutes later.

In other business, Supt. S. E. Daw reported he received a re-neged from the salary committee of the City Teachers Association to set up a meeting with the board to discuss the possibility of "career supplements" to the salaries of those who have remained on the faculty for many years.

Miss Mary Jenkins is chairman of the teachers' committee. Earl Bake, board president, said he would like to recognize the older teachers, but pointed out the board has to look at both ends of the wage scale. He said the board will discuss the matter with the teachers if additional state foundation program money is received.

Daw reported an additional room is needed for a special class for slow learners next term. He said the school system is meeting state requirements but some of the older pupils had to be put in the regular classrooms.

At present, there is too much of an age difference in the students who range from 6 to 14. The board discussed various ways of providing space and setting up the additional class.

The board also discussed a request that the principals be granted their schedules and set up the programs for the year. At present, William Menough, high school principal, is given four weeks. The board discussed possibly granting two weeks to all other principals but no action was taken.

Daw reported the high school study courses have been outlined and are ready to be prepared for the State Board of Education for approval. The reports will be typed.

Theodore Koenig, band director, requested cases for bass horns and file cabinets for music. The board is going to check on the price of file cabinets but delayed action on the horn cases.

Daw turned over $235.57 from supplies and fees to Rolley.

referring to the specific night on which the officers entered the club. In his comment on the case, the judge said Johnson "could have referred to that particular time or could have been referring to previous times."

"There might have been a crap game there, but the evidence leaves a doubt in the court's mind," the judge said. "The court has no alternative but to agree with the motion of the defendant and dismiss the case."

Carter testified he and Hayes entered the club at 1:09 a. m. Wednesday on a "routine check" to find if the bar had closed on time. He said as they went through the door, he saw 20 to 25 people grouped around a pool table at the rear of the room. Several had money in their hands and one man was making a motion as though to throw dice, he said.

Carter testified boards had been placed around the sides of the pool table. They appeared to be "banking boards" for dice, he said. Someone at the bar shouted as the officers entered and the people around the table dispersed, he said.

In cross - examination, Carter said no dice or money were confiscated.

"We didn't have time," he said. Officer Hayes offered testimony mainly about the bar. He said his attention centered on the bar, which he noted had been closed on time.

As 'Today's Career Girls'

Former Girl Scouts Are Honored

As part of Girl Scout week, the Area Council today honored six former troop members as "Today's Career Girl".

Receiving recognition are Mrs. Glenn Mudge of Oak Park, Mich.; Mrs. George H. Harrison of Richmond, Va.; Miss Helen Lou Morgan of Wellsville; Mrs. James Betteridge of East Liverpool; Mrs. Kenneth Russell of Youngstown, and Miss Carol Lynne Pittenger of East Liverpool.

SINCE THE late 1920's when the first Girl Scout troop appeared in the council area — East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester and Newell — hundreds of girls have registered as members during the formative years of 7 through 17 and then, following advanced schooling, have moved into successful careers that were influenced in part, or entirely, by the activities and skills they enjoyed while in scouting.

Mrs. Mudge, the former Joy North, daughter of Mrs. Doris Farnsworth, 1272 Erie St., entered Girl Scouting as a member of the Horace Mann troop in 1943, with Mrs. Lester Hall as leader. She followed an active program, her interest covering the entire 11 program fields, with emphasis on the outdoor program.

She is now employed at Oak Park High School and is working on her Master's Degree in Library Science at Wayne University.

Mrs. Harrison, the former Hester Chandler, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Chandler, 239 Virginia Ave., Chester. She started as a Brownie in 1944, with Mrs. Edith Gibson Jester as leader.

Her major interests while a Girl Scout were centered in nature and the outdoor program. Following her marriage, she accepted the position of research librarian in the technical division of the Alhambra Paper Co. at Richmond.

Miss Morgan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Morgan, 702 Aten Ave., Wellsville. She entered scouting as an 8-year-old Brownie. While an intermediate, she earned 18 merit badges.

She is the owner of the Friendly Beauty Shoppe on Mulberry St.

Mrs. Russell is the former Millie of Albert and the late Mildred Parker Pittenger, 924 Orchard Grove Ave. She began scouting in 1944 with Brownie Troop 3, with her mother as leader. She was active in many phases of the program.

Warren, Ohio (AP) — Bedell Beavers, 39, an unemployed television repairman, feared someone was after him, his wife said.

Police said he set fire to his home Monday night, forcing him to escape from the second floor.

Man Sets Fire To Home, Hurts 4; He Is Killed

When police, firemen and Trumbull County sheriff's deputies arrived, Beavers was a wild man. He was attacking bystanders. He injured four men, two of them critically, with wild swings of a hammer.

The officers fired two warning shots into the ground. Beavers didn't stop. Another shot struck him in the leg. Police say he then grabbed a deputy's station wagon and took off.

Beavers was cornered a short distance away and killed by a bullet from a Warren policeman's gun.

His wife said he had been carrying two hammers around all day, but she was unable to shed any light on the reason for his attacks.

In critical condition in a Youngstown hospital with severe head injuries were Ray Banks, 42, and Walter H. Losey, 40. Two other men were treated here and released.

Bettis' Liquor Certificate Ban On Priority List

The Review Correspondent COLUMBUS — A bill co-sponsored by Rep. J. Warren Bettis, R-Columbiana, to ban the sale of gift certificates in State Liquor stores has been put on the high priority list of policy matters by the Republican leadership of the General Assembly.

Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, released Monday night a five-page outline of major topics to be thrashed out before the session winds up its work.

Bettis' bill was included in item No. 8 among 10 points which Cloud indicated were special projects in which he is interested.

The gift certificates were listed as part of the Liquor Department's "activities to promote the sale of liquor," which the statement said should be "de-emphasized."

"The state's place in liquor control ought to be one of regulation and not promotion of sales," Cloud's outline said. This was the tack taken by the sponsors when they introduced the gift certificate bill several weeks ago.

At the time of the bill's introduction, however, Gov. Michael V. DiSalle blasted it as "demagogic" and said the certificates never were intended for general use. He said they were offered only as a convenience to business firms which give liquor for Christmas gifts.

Progress Tape Leads To Better Figure

Try something new in slimming. Experiment with a progress tape. Exciting ideas can energize you into action. Come on ... you can lose the blues and the bulges!

First, take your measurements. Measure the bust, waist, abdomen, a n d hips. Take a bust measure over a properly - fitted bra. Tape should be even in back, touching shoulder blades.

Next, tie a string around your waist, tightly. The string will settle to the smallest section. That's your natural waistline. Circle tape around this area, pulling snug, but not uncomfortably tight.

To measure abdomen, circle tape around the body to include the out-curve of the abdomen. For full measure on the hips, circle tape around lower hips at the largest part so as to include the derriere.

WITH A RED crayon mark those measurements on the tape measure. Now — the challenge! Sew snaps on the tape measure exactly one inch slimmer than your present measurements. With precision exercises you can be an inch slimmer by the first day of April ... and no April fooling.

Exercise is the streamlining technique. Since the waist appears to be the line of least resistance to fat, start the slimming there.

Position: Stand with feet well apart ... fingers interlaced, a n d hands on top of head. Pull elbows back into a straight line.

Movement: Bend slowly to the left, hold for a second. Come back to starting position, then bend slowly to the right, and h-o-l-d. Continue for 8 counts, more later.

Keep knees straight and do not allow hips to bow out at sides as you bend.

The second exercise restores tone to the abdominals.

Position: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor, palms resting on thighs.

Action: Bring head a n d shoulders off the floor and slide hands down toward knees. Hold breath normally. Holding the muscle contraction tones the muscles. Repeat this exercise six times, holding to a slow count of six each time.

Then, place right hand over left and rest palm on left thighline. Raise right shoulder off the floor, sliding hands toward knee. H-o-l-d.

THIS CONTRACTION reaches the side-front obliques, flattens the abdomen, and slims the waist. Repeat, alternating sides, for six counts.

Ease into exercise, with these two as a five-minute starter. Do not overdo in the beginning, increase gradually to 5 minutes a day ... stretch, pull, bend, a n d swing. To prevent stiffness, follow with a hot tub. Relax. Re-measure two weeks hence.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

The Soap Opera's Comeback

Perhaps we've all been wrong about soap operas! Perhaps audiences do want to be insulated from the realities of the modern world. Perhaps audiences do want to lose themselves in treacly drama, dolourous tirades, and sonorous chords from an organ.

These ominous thoughts come to mind as we take Marie Torre stock of what's happening on the soap opera front. Many significant operas but the people (no, Virginia, critics are not people!).

FORGETTING the public uproar that attended the mass scrapping of lugubrious serials at CBS, regarded until recently as radio soap opera's last outpost, the Mutual Radio Network has been having surprising success with the return of "My True Story."

On the airwaves only four weeks, the program now is carried by 110 stations throughout the country and has prompted such billets doux as:

"Glad about drama being back on radio. Music and news are wonderful, but drama makes dishwashing time go by much faster."

"Radio stations don't seem to realize that there are some households without television. I'm glad there's one station that thinks of its listeners..."

"So nice to have something other than news and music on radio..."

And to a radio station which presents "My True Story" at night: "We can't wait for 8:30 to roll around..."

ANOTHER soap opera incident of note occurred the other day when "Edge of Night," the CBS television series, killed off its heroine, Sara Karr, a role played for five years by Teal Ames.

The program had no other choice. Miss Ames, prodded by stage ambitions, decided she'd had it and wanted out.

A summit conference ensued at the home office of the sponsor.

The possibility of replacing Miss Ames was ruled out after all executives agreed that the actress had too strong an association with the character she portrayed.

They conceived of the idea of making her the victim of a fatal automobile accident, the first time a soap opera heroine ever has been done away with. The accident occurred on Feb. 20 after a poignant farewell scene with her loving husband.

BEFORE the program ended, 265 listeners had called CBS to ask what in heaven's name was going on. By last week the mail count at CBS was 2,298. The agency representing the sponsor claims to have some 14,000 letters on the subject to date.

And has Miss Ames found that Broadway job for which she left the soap opera?

"No," she told us. "I haven't had the time to look. Been too busy explaining to viewers, via mail and on the phone, why I did what I did."

YOU'D IMAGINE that Jackie Gleason would be of a mind to renounce weekly TV once and for all after his hapless TV experiences of these last few years, but he's not.

Scheduled to conclude his current Friday night "talk" series this month, because of a movie commitment, Gleason is visibly pleased as he says that CBS is meeting with sponsors about returning the series in the fall.

"Also, our rating grows every week. By the time we go off, we'll probably out-rate '77 Sunset Strip.'"

A further incentive to Gleason is the idea of doing an unrehearsed, ad lib show.

"I wouldn't have any interest in a weekly show that has to be produced in the true sense of the word," he put in. "A show like my old Saturday night series wouldn't make it today. The public has become plot weary. What they look for today is spontaneity."

Mayor Quits Post

CLEVELAND (AP)—Courtney Burton resigned as mayor of suburban Gates Mills Monday night. He sent a letter from Washington, saying his new post as national finance chairman of the Republican party kept him away from Gates Mills most of the time.

Board Names Custodian For Midland Post

The Midland Board of Education Monday evening hired John Hosen as custodian at $300 a month, effective March 1, and approved a motion by Leslie B. Roach, personnel chairman, that the services of Howard Roberts, 7th St. School custodian, be terminated as of Feb. 24. The motion to hire Hosen was made by Roach.

The board approved the motion that Frank Alot and John Uccellini, both school board directors, attend the national school board convention in Philadelphia May 3-6 as delegates.

Supt. Ralph H. Jewell recommended that a new typewriter be purchased for a net cost of $255 to replace a 10-year-old electric IBM model. The new one will cost $320 less a trade-in allowance of $65.

Bids for a second-hand air compressor were opened and it was sold to Reed Dawson for $67. Other bids were $55, $25 and $21.50.

Samuel Rosatone, maintenance supervisor, reported that the furnace at 7th St. School would not start automatically a couple mornings. If the trouble continues, the Prothero Electric Co. of Beaver, which has checked the furnace several times, will be consulted again.

Rosatone also reported water in the 7th St. School following rains last week.

Jewell reminded the board of its meeting to be held April 3 with the welfare committee of the teachers' salary committee. He said a demonstration by remedial reading teachers will be held April 17.

A request by the Midland Boosters Club to erect a 4-x-6-foot billboard listing the high school's 1961 sports calendar was turned over to the property committee for study. The request was made by Clem Migliore, corresponding secretary. James Morrison, board president, voiced appreciation to the club for its concern for high school sports.

The board approved that the absence of Henry Kuzma, basketball coach, be accredited to his sick leave. His wife had a baby early in February.

General bills totaling $7,862.75 were approved along with interim orders placed by Jewell last month amounting to $969.47. A book list, totaling $169.20 and requested by the Carnegie Library Board of Trustees, was approved.

Cash receipts of $47,189.94, mostly tuition, were voted to be placed in the proper account. Mrs. Eldamae Castelli, treasurer, reported a balance of $32,675.84 as of Feb. 28.

Her report was ordered filed along with that of Rudolph Prestutti, tax collector, who reported $711.68, including $33.68 in penalties, deposited during February, leaving a balance Feb. 28 of $14,613.08 on the 1960 tax duplicate of $514,537.06.

Paar Challenges Sullivan To Sue Him For Libel

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Paar said on the air Monday night that "Ed Sullivan is a liar"—and he challenged Sullivan to sue him for libel. Sullivan said he had no intention of suing.

Paar told his nationwide television audience that Sullivan did not tell the truth about the reason for cancellation of their scheduled TV debate. In a courtroom under oath, Sullivan would have to tell the truth, Paar said, indicating this was the reason for his challenge.

Sullivan was to have debated Paar on Paar's NBC program Monday night over the question of performers' fees.

The debate was called off Monday afternoon, with each side blaming the other.

Sullivan, a newspaper columnist and star of his own show on CBS, said Paar had "welshed" on arrangements for the debate. Paar said this was not true. He said Sullivan did not appear on the videotaped show before a studio audience because "he would commit suicide before an audience."

Ingemar Counted Out... Floyd In Trouble... Swede Heads For Canvas

CHAMPION Floyd Patterson stands in a neutral corner as referee Billy Regan counts over fallen challenger Ingemar Johansson in the sixth round of their heavyweight championship bout Monday at Miami Beach, Fla. Patterson won the third "rubber" match between the two fighters to retain the championship. (UPI Telephoto)

IN A WILD and hectic first round, Ingemar Johansson, Floyd Patterson and referee Billy Regan appear to be engaged in some sort of a three-man wrestling match. Actually, Johansson had just dumped Patterson to the canvas with a hard right hand, and the champion was grabbing for support. (UPI Telephoto)

United Is Big Surprise...

One reason why United has reached the Regional tournament at Canton may date back to Jan. 21.

United is the only team in the district which remains "alive" along the tournament trail and ranks as one of the season's biggest surprises.

What made United click? A sudden reversal of form occurred at the Hanoverton school. The Eagles had won but six of 18 games in the regular season and entered the Canton Sectional tournament with one of the worst records.

United's youthful coach — Larry Joseph — offers this answer.

Hanna, Schaffer Pace Eagles...

Another reason for the success of the 1960-61 Eagles are Jerry Schaffer and John Hanna. Both boys are only juniors.

Schaffer has been the team's most consistent scorer all season. At present, however, Joseph is worried about Schaffer who is bothered by a bad foot. "I had to pull him out of Saturday's game with Lowellville to rest his foot," the United mentor said.

Hanna, a 5-foot-9 whiz, wasn't scoring much early in the season, but in the last half of the campaign he has perked up and has been averaging close to 20 points per game.

Healey's Squad Still Winning...

IN CASE United does survive Friday's game, the Eagles might run into Tink Healey's Northwest squad.

While talking with Tink in Columbus at last year's state tournament, he seemed to think that his Northwest squad for this season had plenty of potential and that he expected to go a long way in the A tourney.

As it stands now, the former Wellsville coach is only two steps from the state semi-finals.

Healey's squad goes into the Regional play with a brilliant 21-2 mark, but has its work cut out in facing a highly-regarded Liberty squad which has only been beaten once in 25 games. Liberty is from the Youngstown area.

SPEAKING about successful coaches in the district, Midland's Dick Black, a former Westminster athlete, has pulled off the biggest surprise in the WPIAL tournament.

His Mt. Lebanon club meets Uniontown Wednesday night at the Pitt Fieldhouse for the WPIAL championship.

Mt. Lebanon pulled upsets most of the way. Black's team got past Beaver, 31-29, then completely surprised Aliquippa and then took the measure of McKeesport.

LOOKING over the Regional tournament setup among the AA schools, Wednesday night's contest at Kent State University between Akron Central and Cleveland East Tech looks like the blue-plate special.

Both are very strong clubs and either could rip right through to Columbus. East Tech is 19-2, while Akron has been defeated three times in 22 games.

The other two teams are Warren and Cleveland St. Joseph.

This 'N That In Sports...

PICTURES of Monday night's title fight between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson will be screened at the American Theater on E. 6th St. beginning Thursday.

RECENTLY in a workout at Northwestern University, East Liverpool's Bob Mackall ran the 50-yard dash in the brilliant time of 5.3 on an indoor track and caught the eye of Ara Parseghian, head football coach there.

JACK CRADDOCK, the veteran sportscaster, who at one time broadcast the Pittsburgh Pirate games and was employed at WOHI last year, has been transferred to a Pittsburgh Hospital. Any cards or letters may be sent to Jack in care of Mrs. Evelyn Miles at WOHI.

Patterson Rallies After Bad Start
Johansson Floors Champion Two Times In 1st Round

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson's sixth round knockout of gambling Ingemar Johansson has ended their thrilling, three-fight international series.

But what's ahead for the champion, happy in victory but disappointed over his performance, probably won't be known for a while.

It's doubtful that Sonny Liston, the No. 1 contender from Philadelphia will get the lucrative shot although he said again he'd gladly "fight Patterson for nothing just to get a shot at the title."

More likely is Henry Cooper, the British champion, it was learned, although Patterson didn't bring up his name in his post-fight interview.

A left hook to the jaw, a right to the jaw and a chopping right behind the Swede's left ear ended Johansson's bold bid to regain the crown at 2:45 of the sixth round of the scheduled 15-rounder in Convention Hall.

But the 206½ pound Viking, shrugged off again as a 4-1 underdog, almost pulled off another startling upset in the first round when he floored the slow-starting champ twice with thumping jolts to the jaw with his trusty right. Ingo, himself went down from a left hook to the jaw in the pulsating first round that had the 15,000 fans roaring.

Ingo came to fight, and no question about that. He was in there all the way and was going after the 194½ pound champion when Floyd struck with his flashing combination left and right in the sixth round.

The husky Swede rose up on one knee at nine but then fell back as his legs twisted. He tripped and fell back at the final count of ten.

"I thought I was up in time, and I'm sorry I wasn't," said Johansson. "When he (Referee Billy Regan) say eight, I get a little too anxious and I fell."

Regan said "I had just finished the count of a full ten when he tried to get up. He didn't make the full count."

"When I took him to the corner, he didn't know where he was at. He was bleary-eyed and couldn't have continued."

He said he would like to fight Patterson a fourth time, but the New Yorker, 26, said that's out and other contenders will get the chance.

The beginning was almost like the first fight in which Ingo, a 5-1 underdog, dropped Floyd seven times in the third round and won on a technical knockout. Patterson became the first ex-heavy champ twice with thumping jolts to the jaw with his trusty right. Ingo, himself went down from a left hook to the jaw in the fifth round last June.

Five Games Launch NCAA Tournament Tonight At New York And Louisville

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The 24-team NCAA basketball tournament gets under way tonight at New York's Madison Square Garden and at Freedom Hall in Louisville.

It is the kickoff of four national tournaments which will occupy the hoop-minded clientele for the next two weeks, and will determine if Ohio State can make its national championship stand up. The NCAA semifinals and finals are set for Kansas City March 24-25.

George Washington's Southern Conference champions meet the Ivy League champs, Princeton (17-6) in the opener of a tri-(17-6) goes against Louisville (19-ple-header in New York tonight, 7), and Xavier of Ohio (17-9) take St. Bonaventure (22-3) next plays Morehead (Ky.) (18-10).

At Louisville, Ohio University Winners at Louisville remain for the Mid-East regional finals Friday and Saturday, with Ohio State — on a 29 game winning streak—taking on the Louisville-Ohio University survivor.

Two other regionals start Wednesday night with Marquette (16-10) vs. Houston (16-9) at Houston. This winner goes to Lawrence Kan., for the Midwest finals Friday and Saturday.

Louisville And Morehead Favored In Mid-East Play

By BILL HUDSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Morehead, a club that struggled through two playoff games to gain the NCAA basketball tournament, and Louisville, trying to prove its comeback is genuine, hold the spotlight tonight in the Mid-East Regional first round.

Morehead, the Ohio Valley Conference representative, goes against at-large Xavier of Cincinnati at 10:30 p.m. (EST) with the winner moving to Friday's semifinal against Southeastern Conference representative Kentucky.

Louisville, also an at-large pick, tries to repeat an earlier rout of Ohio University, Mid-American Conference king, in the 8:30 p.m. (EST) opener.

The winner here gets the gigantic task of trying to stop the unbeaten march of national champ Ohio State, now standing at 29 straight including last year's NC AA playoffs.

Louisville, after winning its first 13, failed to break even the rest of the way and closed with a 19-7 season.

Senior John Turner, at 6-5 the smallest man in Louisville's front line, is the scoring ace with an average of 22.8 points a game.

Ohio is 19-6 with Bunk Adams and Larry Kruger each averaging 18.4 a game in leading the attack. Ohio U. lost to Louisville last month, 117-84.

Morehead had to play Eastern Kentucky three times and Western Kentucky once in six days to share the OVC title and win the playoff.

Morehead's scoring punch is concentrated in its backcourt aces, Gran Williams and Heckie Thompson who each stand 5-foot-11. Williams is averaging 23.6 and Thompson 18.4 points a game.

Xavier has blown hot and cold in compiling a 17-9 record though losing scoring leader Frank Pinchback at midseason because of classroom troubles.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband's sister invited us to dinner at her home. The invitation came three weeks in advance of the evening and we understood it was to be a party.

The night before the date, my sister-in-law phoned me and casually mentioned that she had invited a person whom she knows both my husband and I dislike intensely. My husband and I discussed it and decided to phone her back and say we would not be there.

We didn't make a fuss or criticize. We simply said we were declining the invitation. Now she is furious and says it is none of our business whom she invites to her home. Is she mad at us with good cause or are we right?—R.X.

Dear R. X.: If your sister-in-law knew of the bad feeling and still invited the other party, she is a poor hostess and no friend.

Granted, it is none of your business whom she invites to her home but you did not try to make it your business. You simply told her you were not attending her party. Every person has the right to protect himself against social situations which he feels may be unpleasant.

Still In Vacuum

Dear Ann: Your advice to "Cackler at a Hen Party" was very interesting but there was something wrong with it. You advised the girls who were mooning about lost loves to find new romantic interests as soon as possible. Quote: "The only way to fill a vacuum is to put something in its place."

A vacuum is a void. It is empty space. How can you put something in nothing? Even Ann Landers can't work that one.

You should have advised the 16-year-old with the mad crush to put her head in a vacuum. Since it is empty, too, it might possibly work.—WICHITA EGGHEAD.

Confidentially

TO DON'T DIG IT: "To give yourself" means in place of buying a gift, to give something that requires time, energy and thought.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

7 Others Turned Down

4 School Districts To Get $1.5 Million Building Aid

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four school districts will get a total of $1,534,414 in state building aid but seven other districts have been turned down because of lack of funds.

The money is all that is left of $20 million appropriated for row) $605,973; Lincoln Heights City $189,823, and Rolling Hills (Guernsey) $350,114.

Turned down for funds were these districts, which had acknowledged improperly housed school children and insufficient local funds and which were high on the board's priority list:

Kenston (Geauga County); Scioto-Darby (Franklin); Goshen (Clermont); Stow (Summit); Jefferson (Franklin); James A. Garfield (Portage) and Field (Portage).

E. E. Holt, state superintendent of public instruction, told the board a relatively small number of school districts applied for the balance of building aid funds because it was generally known the money was limited.

The board has recommended that the legislature appropriate $20 million for new construction aid and $5 million for building modernization of schools during the next biennium.

The board also agreed with Holt's recommendation that a 25-member advisory committee study the current supply and demand for elementary teachers with the idea of upgrading certification requirements.

The advisory committee, to be headed by board member Francis Spicer of Akron, would consider setting a cut-off date for issuing cadet certificates. These allow persons with only two years of college training to teach in elementary schools.

The board's legislative committee will study a proposal by member William T. Monroe, Euclid, to recommend that the legislature license and set standards for private training and correspondence schools. Monroe said he had received complaints of alleged misleading advertising by such schools.

Disapproved was a request to transfer 89 acres from River Valley District, Marion County, to the Marion City District after municipal annexation. The board said the 89 acres would become an "island" within the River Valley District. It has no authority, under an attorney general's ruling, to approve such a transfer, the board said.

Funeral Services Held For Ex-Ohio Educator

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services were held in Winter Park, Fla., Monday for Harold J. Sheridan, professor emeritus of education and dean at Ohio Wesleyan University here 1934-43.

Sheridan, who joined the university's faculty in 1922 and retired in 1952, died Sunday night in his Winter Park home. He would have been 76 today. Interment will take place this summer at Brockville, Ont., his birthplace.

Kennedy To Give Address At WVU Commencement

CHARLESTON, W. Va. — President Kennedy has accepted an invitation to deliver the main address at West Virginia University's 92nd commencement exercises at Morgantown on June 5.

Kennedy's acceptance was announced Monday by Gov. W. W. Barron, who otherwise would have been the commencement speaker. It is customary for the state's governor, in his first year in office, to address the graduating class at the university.

The President has not visited West Virginia — a state that had a big hand in boosting him into the nation's top office — since last fall a few weeks before the general election.

Barron said he and the WVU Board of Governors had extended the joint invitation to the President. Secretary of the Army Elvis J. Stahr Jr., presently on leave from the WVU presidency, assisted.

Kennedy will be the first incumbent President to visit the West Virginia campus in 50 years. William Howard Taft was there on Nov. 3, 1911.

It was the West Virginia presidential primary election last spring that enhanced Kennedy's chances for the Democratic nomination. He defeated by a decisive margin Sen. Hubert Humphrey, D-Minn., who then withdrew from the race.

Suspended ILA Local Head Forms New Unit

CLEVELAND (AP)—Walter R. Weaver, recently suspended as president of International Longshoremen's Association Local 1317, has formed a new independent union and is seeking a certification election to represent 250 great Lakes stevedores.

Weaver disclosed formation of the new union Monday. It will be known as the Cleveland Longshoremen's Union. He said he has asked the National Labor Relations Board for an election to certify the new union as bargaining agent at five companies.

Urges Another Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., today urged the Civil War Centennial Commission to move its mid-April meeting from Charleston, S.C., because of that city's segregation policies. One member of the New Jersey commission is a Negro, Case said.
